Canon

Canon U.S.A., Inc., through its Sourcewell Contract, is proud to offer its line of printers, scanners, multifunction devices, large format, and production print solutions. Canon's outstanding hardware solutions can help users access and share information, automate processes, control print-related costs, and increase overall efficiency and productivity.

imageRUNNER ADVANCE DX /imageFORCE multi-function color and black-and-white devices offer digital copying, network printing, and scanning in multiple speeds and volume bands to help meet the needs of small departments or large workgroups.

imageCLASS printers are highly reliable, easy-to-use, color and black-and-white print devices that offer feature-rich capabilities in a compact size for small offices or a hybrid workforce.

imagePRESS and varioPRINT production print devices are designed to meet demanding high-volume printing requirements.

imagePROGRAF large-format devices are state-of-the art printing solutions that can address specialized customer needs and applications ranging from fine art and photography to production printing and technical drawings to general purpose poster-making.

imageFORMULA scanners help you to capture, manage, and share information quickly, easily, and efficiently.

Canon Office Cloud, a FedRAMP-authorized, cloud-based managed print service, allows State entities to move their print management systems to the cloud with centralized control to enhance productivity, help ensure document security, and monitor costs.
